Projects Summary:

Title: Smart Street Lights and Fault Location Monitoring On Google Maps with Android App.

Description: Nowadays, it became for essential for people work during nights and returning back to homes late nights, so safety parameter to be implemented to a great extent on highways. This can be best achieved by implementing proper lighting system on highways. The efficient monitoring of this lighting system must be taken into account. The existing system is like, the high way lights will be monitored manually which in turns is wastage of huge human power as well as precious time in addition with power wastage at the instant when proper monitoring is failed. This drawback can be overcome by implementing a sophisticated automatic monitoring system through which high way lighting can be monitored automatically before the sun sets and they are switched off the next day morning after there is sufficient light on the roads. But the actual timings for these high way lights to be switched on are when there is absolute darkness. This project gives the best solution for electrical power wastage protection.
